JOHNSON, MASON AND CARTER
SALE TOTALS OVER $30,000

The J. T. Johnson, Earl Carter and W. D. Mason cattle sale at Colonial Hill farm Friday was the largest sale of its kind ever held in the state of Missouri between Kansas City and St. Louis.

Almost 1,000 head of cattle were disposed of to buyers from this section and many other parts of Missouri. It took over 50 herdsmen to handle the sale entries and Friday morning as they started to gather these various herds from the owners' farms at Colonial Hill the sight was a most unusual one. Every road leading to that magnificent farm seemed choked with milling cattle all going toward one point.

Stockmen from all parts of the state were here and they were loud in their praise of the character of stock offered as well as the nerve and ability of the men who had staged this most extraordinary event.

An interesting feature of the sale was that a larger part of the purchases were made with cash. This is indicative of the improved business conditions.

Messrs. Mason, Carter and Johnson, within the past year, have brought more than 3,000 Texas cattle into Audrain county and sold them to feeders here and in adjoining territory. In one lot the shipment included over 2,000 head and was the largest consignment of its kind ever brought into the interior of Missouri.

The sale totaled $30,254.32. Most of the buyers were from Audrain County but a number of stockmen from all over the state were present. E. L. Woodson of the Woodson-Pennwald Livestock Company of the National Stockyards was present and bought heavily for George Mallott of Kentucky. Mr. Woodson complimented Johnson, Mason and Carter on the quality of the stuff offered and said he bought higher grade animals here yesterday than he could anywhere in the state at the price. Dave Roots of Tabetts, S. R. Craghead of Audrain County and James Farris and William Van Booven of near Tabetts were also heavy buyers.

The number of animals sold was so large that to facilitate matters they were sold in lots of from five to sixty-seven. The largest lot of sixty-seven was bought by Ed Knipel.

The sale was clerked by Pollock and Mundy for the North Missouri Trust Company and handled in a most efficient manner.

The list of sales was as follows: Albert Shearer, 35 steers calves at $30.

Homer Dillard, 31 steers at $23. L. A. McVeigh, 27 steers calves at $19; 36 steer calves at $15.50.

MISS LOTTIE CORNETT GIVES SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Mamie Dix informally announced the marriage of her niece, Miss Lottie Cornett to Mr. R. M. Gelbach, of Chicago, Tuesday afternoon at her home on east Promenade street. The guests were very much surprised when they learned the wedding had taken place in Chicago July 15, 1921.

A few immediate friends of Mrs. Gelbach had been invited in and during the course of the afternoon were presented with bouquets in the center of which was a small card containing the announcement, Mrs. Gelbach is one of Mexico's most charming and capable young women, and for the past several years has been living in Chicago, where she was making a success of her work there.

Mr. Gelbach is a son of Dr. W. R. Gelbach, of New York. He is a graduate of Stephens Tech and a member of the Chi Psi fraternity. He is a young business man of ability. They have been making their home in Chicago since the wedding. The Ledger desires to join the many friends of both in wishing them much happiness.

TO BUILD NEW R. R. BRIDGE OVER AUXVASSE CREEK

A new steel railroad bridge over the Auxvasse Creek will be built next year to replace the old wooden structure according to President Beird and other railroad officials of the Chicago and Alton Railroad, who made an inspection over the South Branch from Mexico to South Cedar Friday.

It was not known until Tuesday that such a tour of inspection had been made. The old wooden bridge spanning the creek is said to be the spaggiest wooden bridge in this country. It was constructed in 1871 and the first train was run across it in the following year. Only one accident ever occurred at the bridge and that was when it was being built. When it was nearly completed about half of it fell in and two of the workmen were killed.

The bridge had been condemned for several years and no heavy shipments have been allowed to be taken over it.

Two divorces were granted by the Audrain County Circuit Court Wednesday morning. They were to Katie Price who was suing George Price of the grounds of non-support and Dora DeTienne who alleged that her husband, Andrew DeWienne mistreated her.

In the case of J. H. W. Wayne Bradley v. Julia Bradley for divorce, the defendant's motion for an allowance for attorney's fee and suit money was sustained.

THE Ledger wishes to congratulate the splendid people of Vandalia on the concrete expression of civic patriotism they displayed recently when they bonded themselves to build a new high school. Vandalia, as we have often remarked in the past, is one of the best cities its size in this country. It is made up of a far-sighted, progressive citizenship which does things. An Audrain countyman we are proud that Vandalia is located there.

MISSOURIAN SEEKS PRICE-FIXING BODY FOR FARM PRODUCE

(St. Louis Post Dispatch).

The executive committee of the Missouri State Farmers' Association meeting Tuesday at the Marquette Hotel, St. Louis, has under consideration a proposal to ask the Government to establish a price-fixing commission for farm products.

The plan has been outlined by William Hirth, editor of the Missouri Farmer, official organ of the association, which is published at Columbia.

Outline of Plan. Hirth proposes the following solution for the farmers' problem:

Organization of a price-fixing commission which will establish prices of farm produce on a scale commensurate with the tariff-protected manufacturer.

Control of the annual crop surplus by the Government and the fixing of a tariff sufficiently high to protect the home-consumed produce.

Sale of the annual crop surplus through Government-regulated channels at prices established by the world market.

How Plan Would Work. The plan would work in this way, according to Hirth's explanation. If the price for domestic wheat was fixed at $2 a bushel by the commission a tariff would be placed on imported wheat so that none could be brought at a price lower than $2.

Then the commission would take over what surplus remains after domestic needs have been satisfied and sell it abroad at whatever price the world market afforded. Thus, while the price of American wheat in the United States would be $2, it might be $1 or $1.25 a bushel abroad.

C. M. Clay addressed the Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon and stated he would give as high as $5,000 toward securing the shops here if money was a consideration. He said he had it on good authority that the road intended moving the shops from Moberly and believed Mexico might secure them if the proper effort was made.
